

New head of CBIO!

CBIO Past & Future - seminar and reception

New CBIO
members!

18th of April 2023 from 12:00-15:30

The Auditorium, Aarhus University, Viborg, Research Centre Foulum
Blichers Allé 20, 8830 Tjele

The Aarhus University CBIO - Centre for Circular Bioeconomy – has now existed for 5 years. CBIO is today well known and has already created considerable impact on business and society. Come and hear how CBIO has developed through past and new interdisciplinary collaboration projects for the implementation of circular bioeconomy in the green transition. From this year, CBIO has been extended with two new AU members, who will present themselves.

The seminar will finish with a reception on the change of head of CBIO from Uffe Jørgensen, AGRO, to Morten Ambye-Jensen, BCE.

PROGRAM

12.00 – 12.30 Lunch

12.30 – 12.50 Commercial development of green and blue biorefining
by Steen Bitsch, Vestjyllands Andel

12.50 – 14.30 Presentation of selected CBIO key projects:

- Biomass from peatlands – a trade-off? Wet Horizons
by Claudia Nielsen, AGRO, AU
- Increasing biorefining efficiency for production of high quality feed protein
by Søren Krogh Jensen, ANIVET, AU
- Hydrothermal liquefaction – a multi-tool technology in the green transition
by Patrick Biller, BCE, AU
- Is biochar from straw and/or biogas fibres the new black? Sky-Clean
by Anne Winding, ENVS, AU
- Coffee break (10 min)
- Emission Capture and Utilisation – The Blue Biomass in the Circular Bioeconomy
by Annette Bruhn, ECOS, AU
- Business, citizens and consumers – perspectives on circular bioeconomy
by Marija Banovic, MAPP Centre, AU
- How can genetics contribute to the circular bioeconomy?
by Mogens Sandø Lund, QGG, AU
- Biorefining for food quality – past, present and future
by Trine Kastrup Dalsgaard, FOOD, AU

14.30 – 15.30 Reception – new head of CBIO: Morten Ambye-Jensen, BCE, AU

Participation is free of charge but registration is necessary on: <https://events.au.dk/cbio>

Deadline is the 13th of April 2023

Photos in the top, left to right: Ida Marie Jensen - Louise Juul Pedersen - Lise Balsby - Patrick Biller - Colourbox - Jan Værum Nørsgaard - Flemming Nielsen
In the bottom: Ida Marie Jensen